

1 reached the decennial census of the United States, the 2 General Assembly shall redistrict the State in accordance with the provisions of this article. If the 3 General Assembly has not enacted a plan of redistricting
4 within such one-year period, the Governor shall promulgate
5 a plan of redistricting, which shall become law upon 6 publication by the Governor. If the Governor has not 7 published the plan of redistricting within 60 days
8 after the expiration of such one-year period, the Court
9 of Appeals in the exercise of original jurisdiction may 10 upon the petition of any qualified voter order the 11 Governor to promulgate and publish a plan of redistrict-
12 ing.

14 We don't think that that third possibility
15 will probably be used, but we do recognize that it may 16 well be that the Governor would have to take a hand
17 should the General Assembly not have done anything
18 within the one-year period.

19 I don't think that these two are necessarily 20 in conflict. I just want to make certain.

21 THE CHAIRMAN: I would think they would be.
